We believe health promotion is based on the determinants of health.

We provide programs and services that address the outside forces that affect your health such as food and exercise programs, supports to help you quit smoking and other types of wellness opportunities.

Our Goal is a Healthy Community

Health Promotion

Community Health Centres like us believe that health is more than just not being sick. We believe that being healthy means having a sense of mental, social, emotional, spiritual, and physical well-being. This means having access to food, housing, education, peace and justice, income and social supports. We also believe that health is a community responsibility and that you are a partner in your own health and well-being.

As Health Promoters, we provide tools and resources to help you improve wellness and stay healthy!

Community Development

Community Development is a process where community members come together to find solutions to common problems. It means understanding community needs and looking at ways to work with partners, municipalities and community members to improve community health.

The Canadian Index of Wellbeing (CIW) lists 8 Domains of Wellbeing:

- Community vitality
- Democratic Engagement
- Education
- Environment
- Healthy Populations
- Leisure and Culture
- Living Standards
- Time Use

Land Acknowledgement

We are grateful for the opportunity to live, meet and work on this territory. We commit to building allyship relationships with First Nations peoples enhancing our knowledge and appreciation of their many histories and voices

Systems Navigation

Part of being healthy is being able to access the services you need.

Systems Navigators help people to understand and find their way through health, community, and social services.

This might include referrals for home care, help finding a medical provider, assistance with Ontario Works and disability forms, and support with applications for Service Canada benefits or medication coverage. We can also connect you to things like mental health counselling, diabetes education and other support agencies in our communities.
